THE HATE AND SADISM THAT THE INDIGENOUS SUFFER.
INDIGENOUS AND EAST ASIAN BEAUTY, AND EROTICISM.

In Paraguay in 2022, indigenous people named Alcides Romero and Rodrigo Gómez González were murdered by the EPP (Paraguayan People's Army).

In Paraguay, the indigenous man named Lorenzo Silva Arce was murdered in 2019. Most of the time, the murders of indigenous people are downplayed as if the lives of indigenous people were worth less to the majority, therefore, this indifference of the majority with the lives of indigenous people is comparable to Nazism.

In 2018, indigenous people from Buenaventura in Valle del Cauca in Colombia were tied up and tortured.

When criminal governments allow criminal whites and criminal mestizos to invade indigenous territories, in addition to causing torture, abuse, rape and murder of indigenous people, this also causes the death of thousands of wild animals, but for the majority it seems that they do not consider wild animals animals and that in their speciesism they do not care about wild animals.

When ranchers who raise bulls, cows and pigs invade indigenous territories and burn many hectares of forest in these territories to make pastures and enclosures for cows and bulls: thousands of wild animals are burned to death in a cruel and slow way, often lasting a long time with severe burns dying slowly.

When miners invade indigenous territories and poison river water with Mercury, thousands of fish and other aquatic animals that live in those rivers die slowly, poisoned by Mercury. In addition, many indigenous people who bathe in those rivers and drink water from those rivers also die.

Unlike most, I consider the physical features of the indigenous people as features of great beauty. And those Asian features of the pure indigenous people, such as their slanted or almond-shaped eyes, inspire me with wisdom and tranquility.

But, the hatred of indigenous people in this sick society is also due to their physical features. And for this reason, those in power have wanted to exterminate them, since they hate them for everything, and see them as simple objects in which to express their death or destructive impulses (sadism).

In some indigenous ethnic groups before colonization, homosexuality was not considered something bad, in fact, there are sculptures from the Mochi and Chimú ethnic groups of Peru where they represent homosexual relationships:

But, as the European colonizers had a Judeo-Christian morality, this was also used to justify hatred and domination. And as I have explained in my other writings and will explain later, indigenous people have the same genetics as East Asians. The following photograph is East Asians in a homo erotic scene:

In plate XXII of the book Narratio regionum indicarum, written in 1598, we read the following: - Balboa throws several Indians guilty of the terrible sin of sodomy to the dogs, so that they could lacerate them.

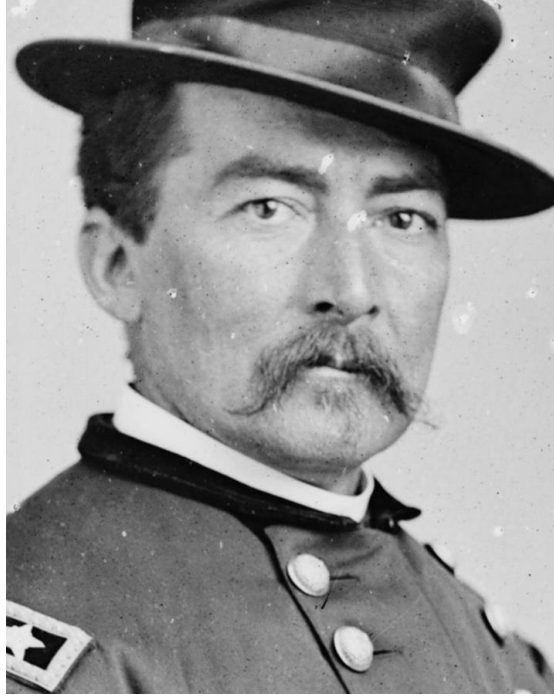

This illustration represents an event in Panama: in 1513, the colonizer Vasco de Balboa threw 40 indigenous people to the dogs accused of sodomy (homosexuality).

In the following screenshot, a criminal from Brazil named Neto Ferraz states the following: -good Indian, he is a dead Indian.

The phrase good Indian is dead Indian was said by a United States Army soldier named Philip Sheridan, in the genetics of these monsters it is seen that they are already born with an instinctive and predatory hatred against the indigenous people:

About

Charitable and intelle

The whites and mestizos who hunt for pleasure without it being a necessity to survive, who are bullfighters, who are cockfighters or who support these atrocities, believe that this is manhood, strength, bravery or power.

Just as, whites and mestizos who humiliate, despise, discriminate, mistreat, torture and murder indigenous people, believe that this is manhood, strength, bravery or power, deep down they are the same manifestation of machismo, but with two different victims.

The following painting is a tribute to the colonizer Francisco Pizarro, this painting is found in the Catholic cathedral of Lima in Peru, in it you can see Francisco Pizarro holding a sword and pointing at the indigenous people with his hand in a dominant way so that they enter a boat.

As I understand it, this scene represents indigenous leaders who wanted to escape domination, and who, according to the beliefs of the colonizers, with the help of the Judeo-Christian god managed to be trapped and made prisoners.

There are photos that show how the Catholic cathedral of Lima was used so that, at the top, snipers could shoot at the indigenous people who were going to protest against the genocidaire called Dina Boluarte. This is proof of how the elites in power whom they want to exterminate are the indigenous people and not the majority who are not indigenous.

In the countries of this continent, the police and military also oppress indigenous people and treat them as criminals when they protest for their rights. In these countries, there are criminal police and criminal soldiers who murder indigenous people with impunity:

In the following images, in one of the Tepetlaoztoc codex, it is seen as an encomendero, after making an indigenous person bleed, grabs him by the hair as a way of demonstrating hatred and domination over the indigenous person.

In a photograph, Brazilian police officers who evicted indigenous people from a building dominantly grab one by the hair, and in another image an undercover agent of Guillermo Lasso's government in Ecuador makes the same gesture of grabbing an indigenous man dominantly by the hair.

Another similarity between the whites and mestizos who hunt for pleasure with the European colonizers is that they both use hunting dogs.

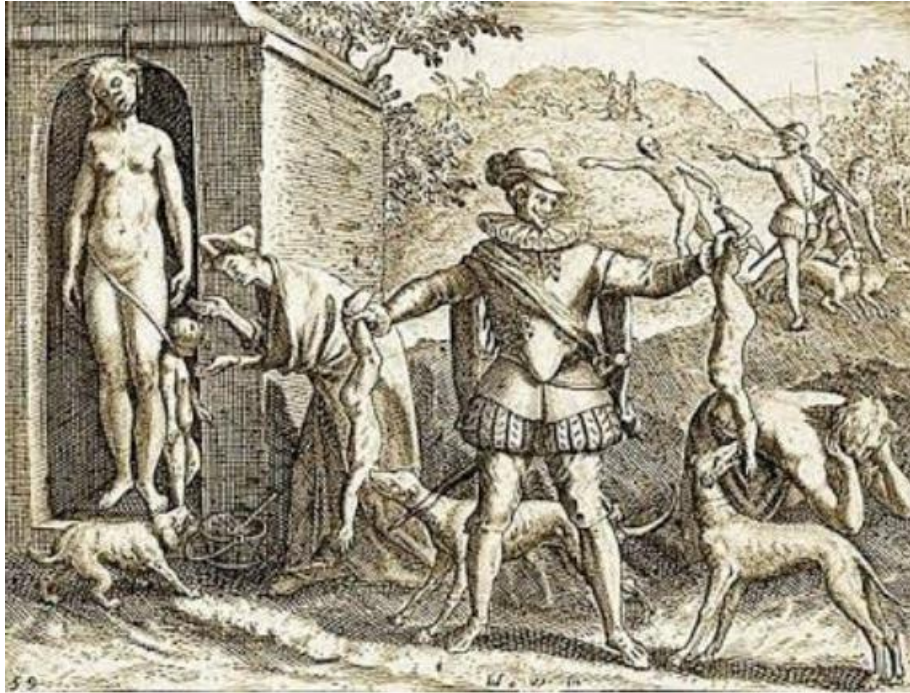

The colonizers used hunting dogs to chase, torture, subdue and kill indigenous people, just as whites and mestizos who hunt for pleasure use hunting dogs to chase, torture, subdue and kill animals.

Image of a hunting dog used by the colonizers to dominate and subjugate the indigenous people, and image of the manuscript on the aperramiento:

Illustration of colonizers feeding their hunting dogs indigenous children as a way of training their dogs to subdue and dominate the indigenous people:

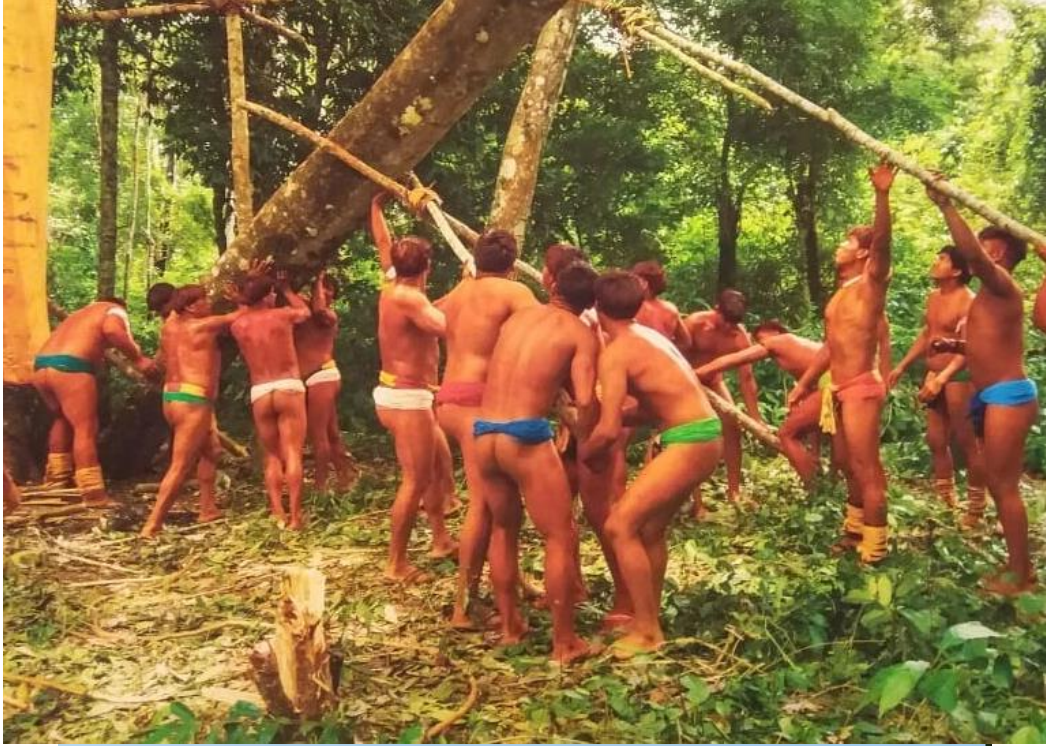

And for those who insist that these crimes are Black Legends, I challenge you not to be a coward and read my other writings and free books where I demonstrate how the colonizers accepted in their books and letters that they did commit these crimes against indigenous people who did not submit to domination.

Also, just as ranchers brand bulls, cows and calves with boiling iron, the colonizers did the same with the indigenous people, the colonizers branded them with boiling iron, but the defenders of colonization will always deny everything saying that it is Black Legend.

Those who hate indigenous people and defenders of colonization such as Hispanicists say that if it were not for colonization we would walk around naked or in loincloths, but mestizos and criollos are not indigenous, and for indigenous people nudity was not a bad thing, for indigenous people before colonization, nudity was not immoral, it was not backwardness and nudism was part of their lives.

In the indigenous ethnic groups of Xingu in Brazil and in the Huaorani, nudity is part of their lives, they do not consider it something bad and they do not consider it something immoral:

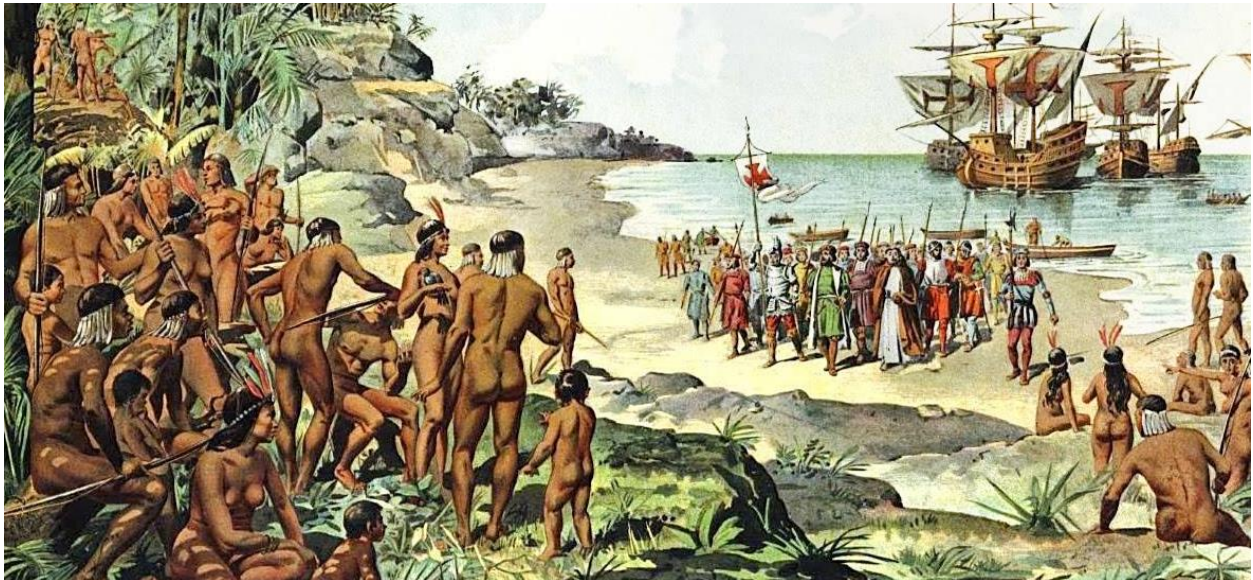

In the places colonized by the Spanish colonizers, the indigenous people walked naked or semi-naked, and although some ethnic groups wore more clothing, they stripped completely naked for ceremonies and rituals:

In Brazil, before being colonized by the Portuguese, the indigenous people of different ethnicities walked naked:

And in the places colonized by the English colonizers and by the French colonizers, the indigenous people walked naked or semi-naked, and some ethnic groups, even if they wore more clothing, always got completely naked for some rituals or ceremonies:

In the book titled Book of the Hopi, written by Frank Waters you can read: Naked and wet, like newborn children in this new world, the initiates are taken to a nearby house, where the heads of the kivas wash their hair in nine successive dishes of cassava foam.

And in the book titled Black Elk Speaks, written by John G. Neihardt the following is written: We always faced each other naked, like warriors who go to battle, if it is not too cold, because they are faster without clothing.

Nudity or semi-nudity for the indigenous people was not backwardness, it was not savagery, it was not something indecent, it was a practice of the majority of indigenous ethnic groups in the past and a practice that some indigenous ethnic groups continue with in the present:

Qual é o nome disso?
- Não sei, mas parece o chifre de

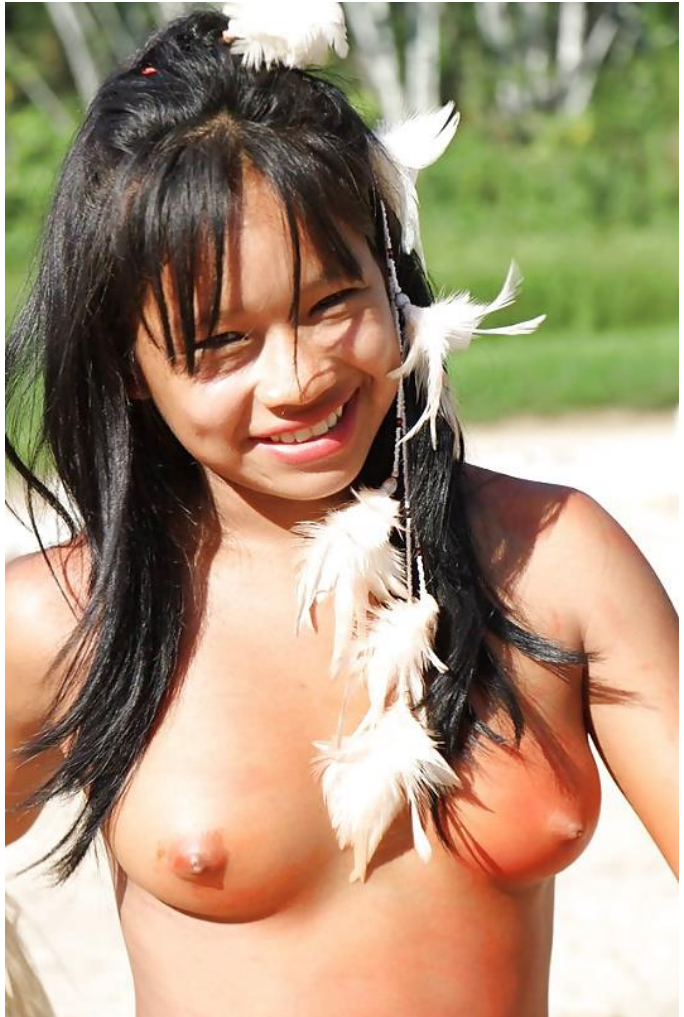

Não sei

In some indigenous ethnic groups such as the Emberá of Panama and Colombia, men wore a tiny loincloth and women walked around with their breasts bare. Similarly, in indigenous ethnic groups in East Asia such as the Igorot, men wore a tiny loincloth, and the same was true with indigenous ethnic groups in the Hawaiian Islands.

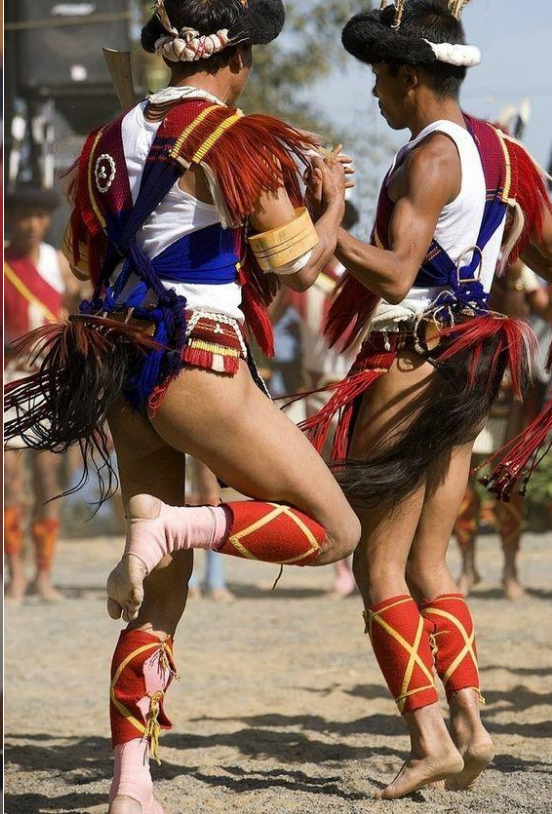

For the indigenous people it was completely normal to bathe together in the rivers:

Just as it happens in the present with the indigenous ethnic groups of Xingu who fight naked in Huka Huka fights, and get naked in games and dances: the same thing happened with the indigenous ethnic groups throughout the continent to which the colonizers gave the name of America where they had fights where they fought naked, dances and games where they were naked, the same thing happened with the indigenous ethnic groups of Asia before colonization and before European influence.

↻  edisonbueno_crossfit

In indigenous ethnic groups of East Asia, there are also types of fighting where players fight naked:

The pleasure in exhibiting their bodies is common in indigenous ethnic groups that still live as they did before colonization, such as those who live in Xingu:

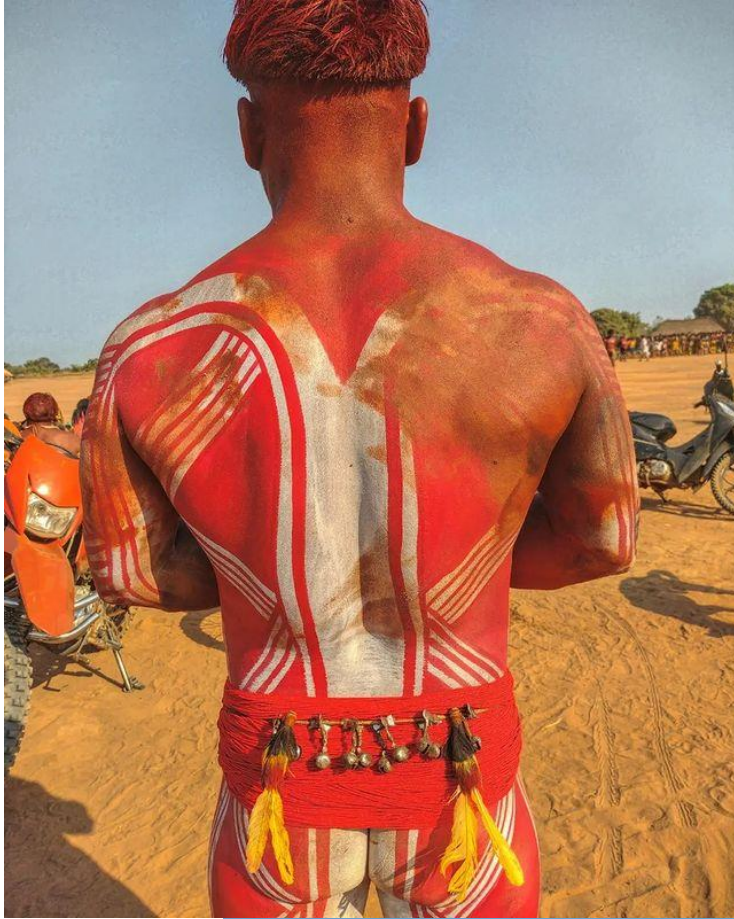

And there is much archaeological evidence of how throughout the continent before colonization the indigenous people liked to display their bodies as a symbol of virility, power and strength:

Just as indigenous people from Xingu and some other ethnic groups currently use paint all over their bodies, before colonization indigenous people from across the continent such as the Selknam and ethnic groups from East Asia also used body paint all over their bodies:

Currently, the indigenous people of Xingu also use red or orange paint in their hair, but in the same way, many indigenous ethnic groups before colonization also used red or orange paint in their hair.

That throughout the continent indigenous ethnic groups used paint to paint their entire naked bodies is proven by the fact that ethnic groups such as the Hopi and the Sioux of what is now the United States used body paint on their naked bodies.

In a book titled Book of the Hopi, by Frank Waters, the following reads: Naked bodies were painted as if for death.

And in the book titled Black Elk Speaks, written by John G. Neihardt the following is written: After the ceremony, we went swimming to remove the paint.

Unfortunately, at present, the majority of indigenous people have their minds colonized with Judeo-Christian beliefs, they believe in the white god of the Bible that was brought to the continent by their enemies, the colonizers.

And the people who murder and hate the indigenous people in the present are also believers in that Judeo-Christian god. For this reason, practices such as nudity and the use of body paint have been lost in most indigenous ethnic groups.

And many indigenous people, because their minds have been colonized, also consider nudity and the use of body paint as something that causes shame or represents backwardness.

But, even in the indigenous ethnic groups that inhabit the Xingu and the Huaorani, due to the influence of those who are not indigenous, the younger indigenous people have begun to wear more clothes and feel ashamed of nudity, and many also already have their minds colonized with the Judeo-Christian beliefs of their enemies.

The classist Christians who hate the indigenous people, and who, if they see the body and nudity as something bad, therefore, consider these indigenous ethnic groups as ordinary beings, lacking in modesty, as shameless and as immoral.

Also during colonization, the nudity and semi-nudity practiced by indigenous ethnic groups was seen as a reason for Christians to subject and dominate them.

Nudity should never be considered immoral, it should never be considered something indecent and it should not be considered something bad, but those who hate indigenous people consider the nudity practiced by some ethnic groups as a reason to subject them and continue oppressing them, and also as a reason to exterminate indigenous ethnic groups that live in isolation.

The following is a screenshot where a criminal from Brazil named Vianeí Pasa states the following: - Think about the naked Indians shot.

During Jair Bolsonaro's government, the indigenous people of Xingu protested with the phrase Out of Fear painted on their bodies, as a way of telling other indigenous people not to let themselves be dominated and not to let themselves be subjugated by Jair Bolsonaro's policies of hatred towards indigenous people.

José Mendes, who is a Brazilian in favor of Bolsonaro, made a montage copying this same indigenous man four times and as if two indigenous people were holding hands, as if implying that the indigenous ethnic groups where male nudity is practiced is because according to They are sodomites (homosexuals).

In fact, these criminals who hate indigenous people use homophobic insults, calling them faggots when they defend their rights. But in addition to this, José Mendes wrote this phrase in a mocking sense: -Meanwhile, in Xingu, Indians with their naked asses ask for Out of Fear.

When these criminals refer to the extermination of indigenous people by the European colonizers with the phrase "make clean", it means that for them the indigenous people are garbage, they consider the indigenous people as disgusting beings that must be eliminated, and as for them the word pig means disgusting, they call the indigenous people pigs.

In the following screenshot, a criminal named Maria Clara Pulcherio writes the following: - Look how the PT cares about the Indians. Scoundrels, filthy people, pigs, people of the worst kind.

Before colonization, in many indigenous ethnic groups, sexuality was not considered something bad, it was not a taboo and it was not considered immoral. In fact, there are sculptures that refer to sexuality before colonization. But, the Abrahamic religions (Jewish, Christian and Islamic) do see sexuality as something immoral, as a taboo or something impure.

This was one of the reasons why, from the arrival of Christian Europeans to the present, those who hate indigenous people consider them disgusting, immoral and ordinary.

In the sacred sites for indigenous ethnic groups that inhabit Xingu in Brazil, there is a figure that represents a vagina:

A deity of the indigenous Hopi ethnic group was represented with an erect penis:

And the indigenous people of Xingu also make representations of penises and vaginas:

Before colonization, the different indigenous ethnic groups that inhabit the continent also made these representations of penises in sculptures:

For the indigenous people, sensuality and eroticism were not something bad, nor something immoral, nor something ordinary, they were something natural, a gift from the gods and something placed by the gods to enjoy.

But, this also always caused hatred in the enemies of the indigenous people, since it is a threat to their Judeo-Christian and Puritan values.

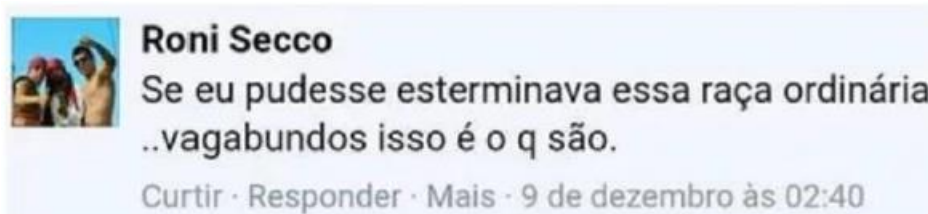

For the enemies of indigenous people, anything serves to promote hatred of indigenous people: nudity, eroticism, sensuality, human sacrifice (although from the beginning of colonization to the present, indigenous people continue to be sacrificed in invasions, genocides and massacres), infanticide (although from the beginning of colonization to the present the invaders cause infanticide when they murder indigenous children) and cannibalism (although at present the majority of indigenous people do not practice cannibalism and before colonization not all indigenous ethnic groups practiced cannibalism).

Another thing they say is that the indigenous people themselves hated each other because some ethnicities waged war on others, but what they don't say is that in Europe the whites of different ethnicities such as Celts, Slavs, Greeks, Romans and Vikings They were also at war with each other, and when Europe converted to Christianity, the different European countries were also at war with each other.

Nor do they say that white people like the Celts, Vikings, and Slavs also made human sacrifices, and that white people like the Vikings, Greeks, and Romans also practiced infanticide.

The enemies of the indigenous people would say that the white people of the present do not do those things, however, they think it is okay to promote hatred of the indigenous people of the present for what other indigenous people did in the past.

In the following screenshot, a criminal from Brazil named Roni Secco, referring to the indigenous people, states the following: - If I could, I would exterminate that ordinary race... vagabonds, that's what they are:

The following illustration represents how a punishment that the mine corregidor used in the encomiendas was tying and whipping naked indigenous people as a way of subduing and dominating them.

Although it may seem incredible, this same thing is happening in the present, in Colombia, a black man, together with a mestizo man, tied up and whipped three indigenous people of the Emberá ethnic group accused of stealing.

That, by the way, they were stealing some bananas to eat because in Colombia they live in poverty because the police and military expel them from their territories, and the majority in Colombia treat the Emberá indigenous people as savages, terrorists and criminals whether they defend themselves or take revenge (just as happens throughout the continent).

All of us who are not indigenous exist on this continent because of genocide, extermination, expulsion from indigenous territories and the theft of indigenous lands.

Although it is true that some indigenous people have money and there is a millionaire minority, the majority of indigenous people live in poverty or extreme poverty, suffering from hunger and without money to buy medicine.

Stealing is not a serious crime, serious crimes are rape and murder. If an indigenous person steals from someone who is not indigenous, they are simply recovering a part of what the non-indigenous people stole from them because they descended from the invaders.

And if an indigenous person is hungry and suffering from needs such as not having money to pay for medicine, they have every right to steal to survive.

Why are indigenous people so harshly condemned for stealing, but not the governments and businessmen who maintain a system that causes indigenous people to suffer hatred, oppression, invasions, expulsion from their territories, massacres and famine?

Why are indigenous people condemned for stealing to survive (because the majority do not care about their suffering and do not do anything to help them), but those who invade their territories, those who massacre them and expel them from their territories are not condemned?

In Colombia this news appeared titled: The police officers who were kidnapped by the Indigenous Guard were released.

And many criminals in Colombia, which is called Colombia in honor of Christopher Columbus, called the indigenous people terrorists, criminals and even made comments stating that someone like Nayib Bukele was needed in Colombia to give the indigenous people what they deserve.

The following is the screenshot of the news about a businessman named Juan José Lafaurie: Juan José Lafaurie stated that there should be no dialogue with the Embera: With a Nayib Bukele, the bullshit of the indigenous people ends.

COLOMBIA >

Juan José Lafaurie afirmó que no se debe dialogar con los Embera: “Con un Nayib Bukele se acaba la joda de los indígenas”

Screenshot of video title published on Facebook with the title: Indigenous people attack sugarcane workers.

What these criminals who call indigenous people criminals for taking revenge and defending themselves never say is that these police officers, soldiers, non-indigenous farmers and businessmen have often caused the expulsion of indigenous people from their territories, murders of indigenous people and torture of indigenous people.

But, these criminals who believe they are good, what they want is for the indigenous people to accept being humiliated, to accept being murdered, to accept being expelled from their territories, to remain silent and to never defend themselves.

A punishment that the encomenderos used to dominate and subdue the indigenous people was to force them to lie naked on their backs on the ground, and then they poured boiling oil and candle wax on their bodies and wounds.

The accounts on Facebook and Twitter that make these hateful comments against indigenous people are never deleted. Different social networks such as Facebook, Instagram and Twitter (today X), and video platforms such as YouTube allow hateful comments against indigenous people.

But, if someone made hateful comments against mestizos, blacks, whites and Europeans, these social networks and video platforms would delete the comments, videos and accounts that made them immediately. This is proof of how social networks and video platforms are part of the plan of governments and elites that seek to eliminate indigenous people.

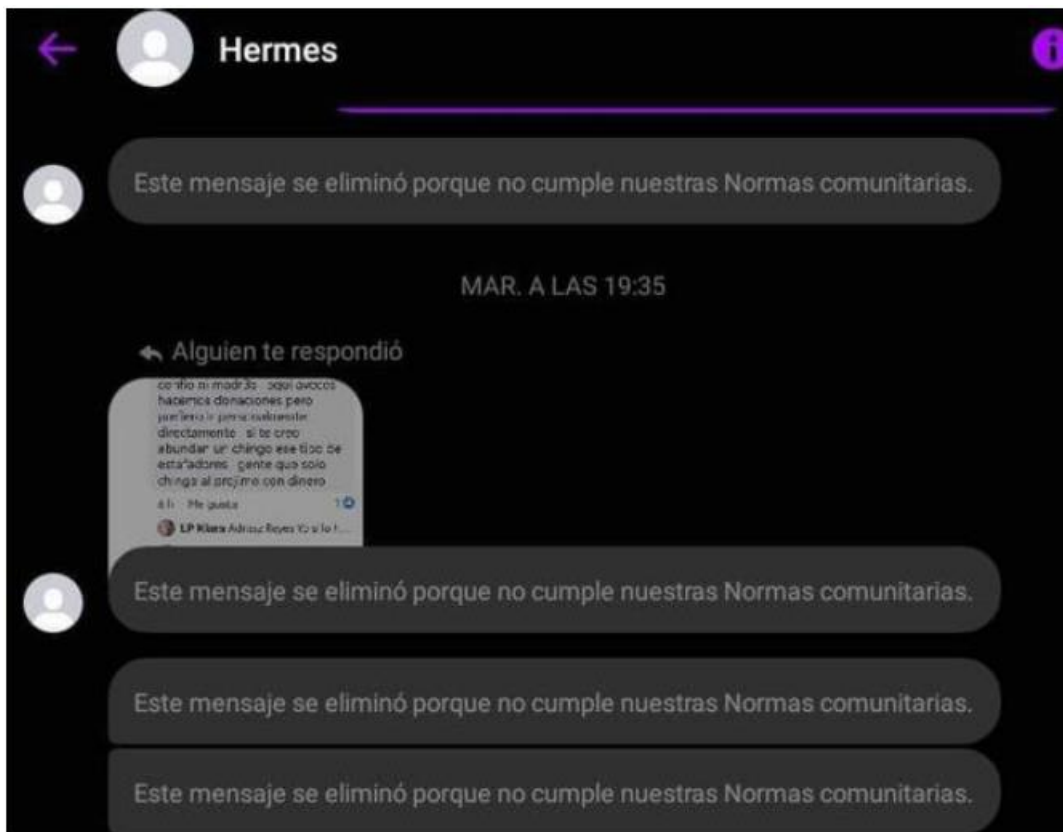

YouTube and social networks allow photos and videos of hunting for pleasure without it being a necessity to survive, of bullfighting and cockfights, stating that they are European customs that must be respected, and that they are traditions of the descendants of European settlers such as the Creoles, mestizos, Latinos, Hispanics or Latin Americans.

But, YouTube and social networks censor indigenous nudity, even though they are customs and traditions of those indigenous ethnic groups. For this reason, YouTube and social networks are part of Eurocentrism and the war against indigenous people. YouTube and Facebook only respect customs and traditions when they are European or from the United States.

Facebook has been associated with the CIA in the United States, an indigenous contact from Peru wrote that he knew that the CIA gave recommendations to Facebook to eliminate accounts that published the massacres of indigenous people caused by the government of Dina Boluarte.

I posted in a conversation about how the United States and Christian ONG USAID is associated with human trafficking and with governments that murder indigenous people, proof that they spied on the account that they deleted me is that in all the private messages with a person This message appears: This Message Was Deleted Because It Does Not Comply With Our Community Standards:

USAID also engages with evangelical Christian churches. Screenshot of News titled: VOA. USA. Christian cooperation through USAID:

Colonization is not a historical fact. Colonization is a project of businessmen and elites that continues in the present with the complicity and indifference of the majority. For the elites in power: the destiny of the indigenous people is to be dominated, subjugated and exterminated, but in a covert, progressive and subtle way.

So the context of the porn video where indigenous people appear, the USAID logo and recorded in USAID facilities, is related to the fact that, to the enemies of the indigenous people, in addition to the fact that the indigenous people cause hatred to their enemies, the indigenous people also cause lust and sadism in their enemies (pleasure in hurting them).

The system brainwashes indigenous people into thinking that only white people harm them and that only white people are their enemies, but the reality is that the majority of brown mestizos, blacks and mulattoes are also their enemies because they are also indifferent to what they suffer and have always voted for politicians who harm them.

In Honduras, this brown mestizo named Juan Ramón Hernández murdered an indigenous man:

Juan Ramón Hernández is a mestizo with indigenous features: brown skin and black hair.

A mestizo with indigenous features named Luis Eduardo Varela Rojas, murdered an indigenous person in Costa Rica, confessed to the murder at a meeting and the majority of attendees applauded him:

In 1963, in Brazil, landowners shot the son of an indigenous woman from the ethnic group called Cintas Largas in Brazil and then murdered the indigenous woman by cutting her in half, and it is seen that the murderers were brown mestizos:

One of the things that indigenous haters say to devalue indigenous people and claim that their lives don't matter is that they ask: What contribution did indigenous people provide?

As if saying that the indigenous people did not provide any contribution and implying that their lives are not worth it, but the contribution that those who are not indigenous give to the world is destruction and contamination of the environment, that contamination and destruction of the environment is what what they call progress, civilization and development:

The following illustration represents the extermination of natives (indigenous people) by Andrew Jackson:

Andrew Jackson belonged to Freemasonry just like George Washington:

When Donald Trump met with natives (indigenous people) he put up a portrait of Andrew Jackson:

Many would think that the enemies of the indigenous people want them far away, but in reality they often take pleasure in having the indigenous people nearby since they see them as prey and as simple objects to satisfy sadism.

During his administration from 2017 to 2022, Donald Trump gave permission to an oil pipeline called Dakota Access Pipeline to invade indigenous territory. For this reason, many indigenous people spoke out against it:

Then, Donald Trump sent the police to oppress them, because the genocide of the indigenous people is a project of the elites in power that continues to the present:

Every now and then politicians on the continent like to do this to the indigenous people because they take sadistic pleasure in hurting and oppressing them. Throughout the continent, the police and the military are genocidal colonizers at the service of the colonial state of each country.

Therefore, when there are indigenous people in the army of each country on the continent, they are serving their enemies.

And when there are indigenous people who defend the concept of homeland, they are defending something colonial, because the homelands, countries or states on the continent were founded by Creoles and mestizos who continued with the same system of hatred and oppression of the indigenous people that the European colonizers had in the past.

Before colonization: when the indigenous people farmed, they planted many varieties of crops together, so the indigenous agriculture favored biodiversity, in addition, the indigenous people cultivated in small spaces of land.

But, the agriculture of whites and mestizos is an agriculture often based on monocultures (cultivation of a single species) which harms biodiversity, and, furthermore, it is extensive agriculture where large spaces are occupied, generating a lot of deforestation.

When insects, birds and rodents eat the crops of whites and mestizos, most whites and mestizos kill the insects with poisons, and kill the birds and rodents with rifle shots, with poisons or with traps.

The vision of the indigenous people is based on balance, that is why, when insects, birds and rodents ate a part of the indigenous crops, the indigenous people did not kill these animals, because they understood that, just as we receive food from nature, we must also return a part of those foods to nature.

Additionally, by growing many varieties together in small spaces; Insects, birds and rodents did not eat all of the indigenous crops, they only ate a part and the indigenous people had no problem sharing a part of their crops with these animals.

Before colonization, there were more forests and more wild areas on this continent, so insects, birds and rodents had more food sources in the forests and wild areas, and therefore, insects, birds and rodents Rodents did not eat all the indigenous crops.

The ways of farming of the indigenous people were wiser than the ways of farming of the whites and the mestizos, for example, the indigenous people grew corn, beans, and squash together, because they understood that the corn serves as a ladder for the beans to climb, and receive more light and pollinators, that the beans filter the hydrogen that feeds the corn, and that the pumpkin with its wide leaves shades the ground, maintains humidity and suppresses the weeds. This form of cultivation was known as the Three Sisters.

The following photographs demonstrate the beauty of a large part of the indigenous people:

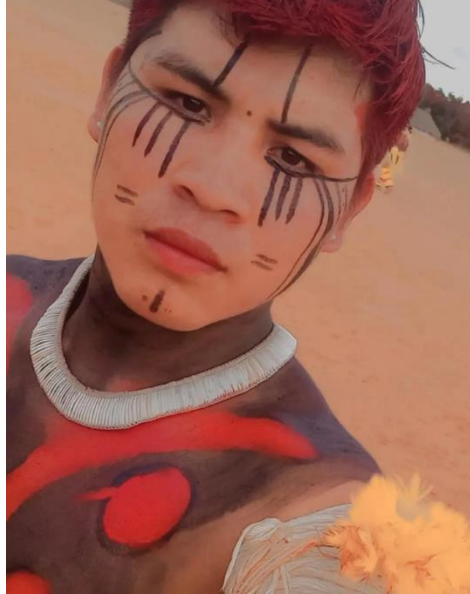

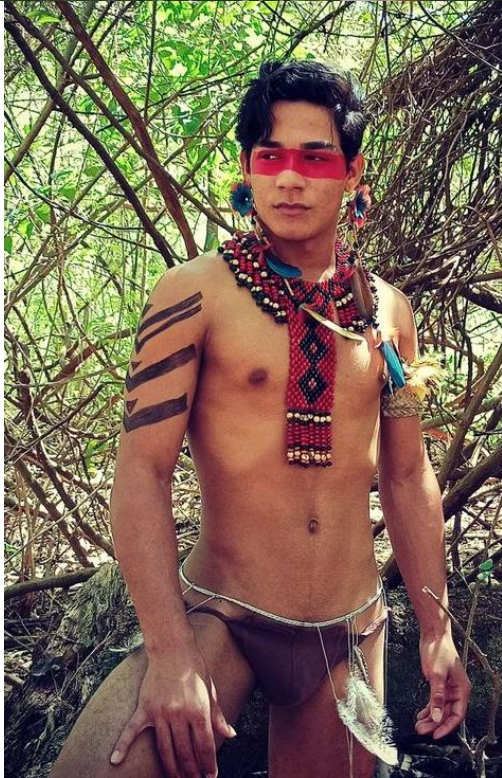

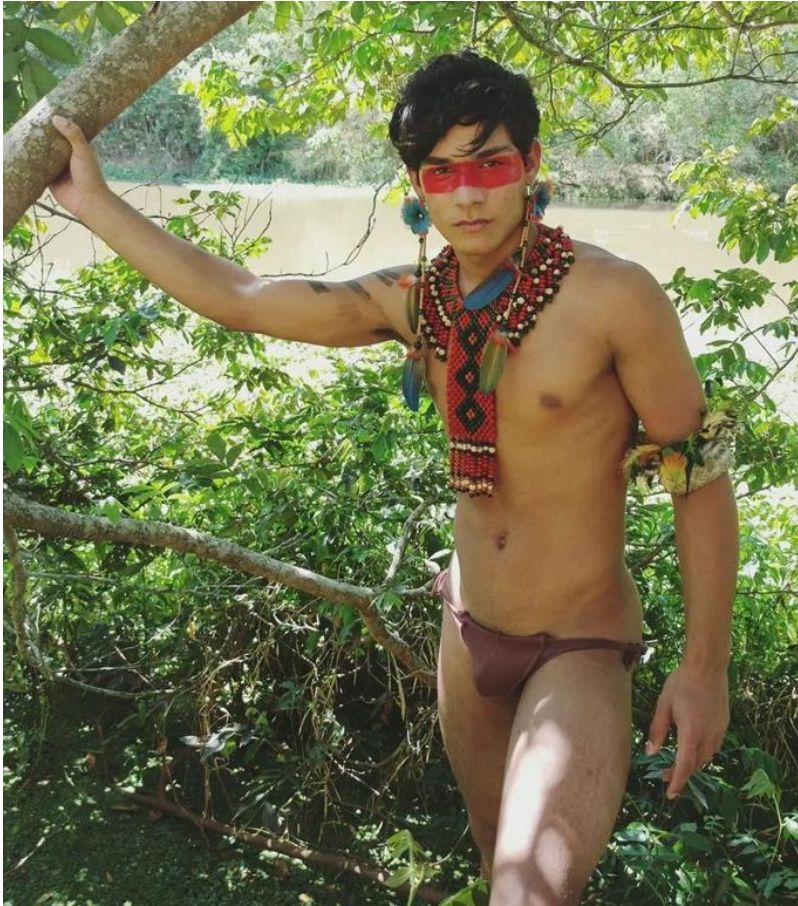

I am white, but for me the beauty of indigenous people and indigenous genetics is superior for the following reasons:

The reddish skins of the indigenous people are more resistant to sunlight and absorb vitamin D from the sun better. White skin has a higher risk of skin cancer and is more irritated.

The indigenous people tend to be hairless and if they have body hair it is very little. On the other hand, white skin develops more body hair and this is detrimental to good hygiene.

The average height of indigenous people has less risk of back problems and less risk of suffering from spinal problems. Tall stature is more at risk of back problems and spinal problems.

The slanted or almond-shaped eyes of the indigenous people and their dark eyes protect more from solar radiation and protect more from the impact of the wind. Light, round and large eyes have more problems due to sunlight and have more problems due to the impact of wind.

A criminal from Brazil named Nicole Silva made this comment: - Indians have to be slaves.

In the comment Nicole Silva also confuses indigenous people with blacks, just like racist Mexicans, the word prieto means black.

If we place the photo of an indigenous person next to the photo of a black person, we realize that they do not have the same physical appearance:

But, if we place photos of indigenous people next to photos of East Asians (Chinese, Filipinos and Vietnamese) we can see that they have the same physical appearance and the same features in common because they are the same race:

This fact that the indigenous people of this Abya Yala continent to which the colonizers gave the name America have the same genetics as the East Asians and are the same race, is also used to promote hatred of indigenous people on social networks and on channels from YouTube as indiomamon.

Even YouTube channels like indiomamon promote xenophobia to incite hatred of indigenous people by stating that indigenous people are immigrants in America. As if white people were not immigrants to this continent and they were not immigrants to Europe.

It is a fact that the indigenous people have ancestors from East Asia (China, the Philippines, Malaysia, Mongolia, Vietnam, Thailand) because their ancestors came from Siberia and from the Polynesian islands, and both the indigenous people of Siberia and the Polynesians have ancestors from East Asia.

But, white people did not always live in Spain, England, Portugal, Russia, France, Ireland, Scotland and Italy, white people were also immigrants in Spain, England, Portugal, Russia, France, Ireland, Scotland and Italy.

The origin of the white people who in the past were Celts, Romans, Greeks, Vikings, Saxons and Slavs is Indo-European or Eurasian, this means that the origin of the white people is the Middle East (Iran, Turkey, Israel and Iraq), that is, the genetics of the whites are the same as the genetics of the Arabs who in the past were the Persian empire.

And this fact that white people were also immigrants in Spain, England, Portugal, Russia, France, Ireland, Scotland and Italy because their origin is Indo-European or Eurasian: nobody uses it to promote hatred of white people in the present, unlike of what happens with the indigenous people.

Social media and video platforms allow these hateful comments towards indigenous people based on the fact that their ancestors came from East Asia, but if someone made hateful comments towards blacks and mulattoes based on the fact that their ancestors came from In Africa, social networks and video platforms would immediately delete those comments and the accounts that make them.

And although the ancestors of the indigenous people came from East Asia, this continent does belong to them because they were first of all on the continent. And on this continent it is not the blacks and mulattoes who suffer the most from racism, on this continent it is the indigenous people who suffer the most from racism.

And, in fact, most when they talk about racism they only think about black people, but never about indigenous people and East Asians.

But, in addition, Indiomamon published a video with the intention of sexually humiliating indigenous men, in said video I stated the following: - It is scientifically proven that Indians have very small virile members. We don't want pichacortas (referring to indigenous men). We want these (referring to the colonizers) and not the shortfins. And miscegenation was imposed by popular acclaim among the Indian women.

In that video, a public criminal made a hateful comment towards indigenous women stating the following: - Anya, I wouldn't even touch them with a stick from 5 meters away.

And another channel in Spain that denies the atrocities committed by the colonizers, stating that they are Black Legends and that celebrates colonization with Hispanidad called Hispania Gothorum commented the following: Hahaha, how reality offends some third worldists.

This proves that those who deny the atrocities committed in colonization by referring to the issue as the Black Legend and celebrate colonization by talking about Hispanidad do hate the indigenous people, even though they are cowards who deny it.

It's like when some damn man or damn woman claims that East Asians have small penises, this is hatred of indigenous people because East Asians are the same race and they do it to sexually humiliate this race.

In many photos and videos featuring indigenous men and East Asian men, many of them have large penises:

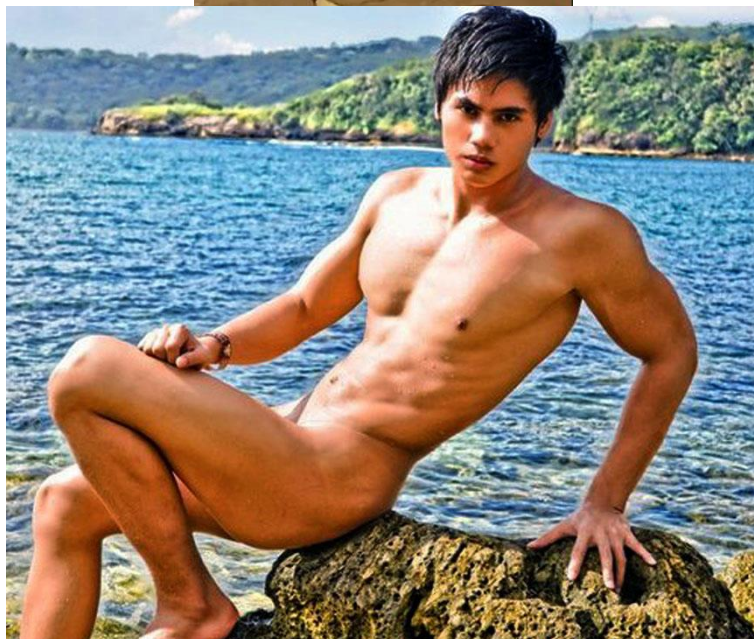

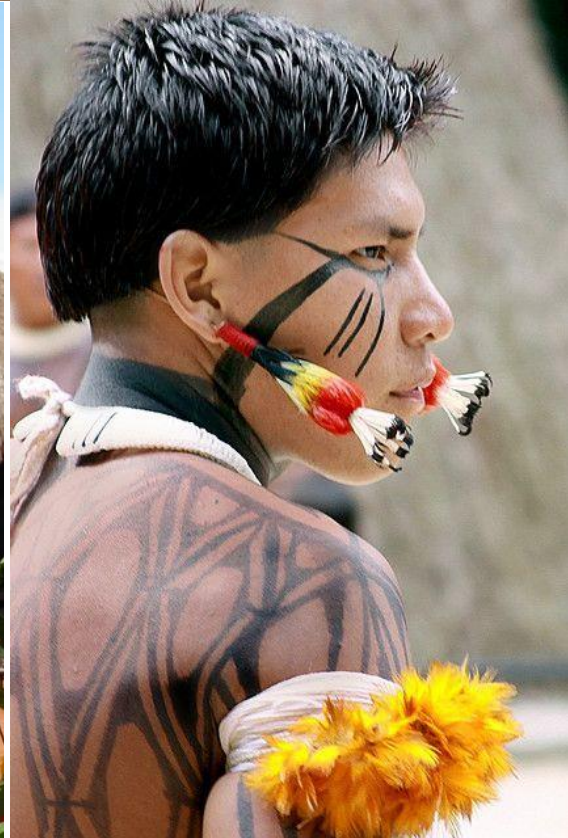

When indigenous people and East Asians pose naked or semi-naked, and although they do not pose naked or semi-naked, they convey great beauty and sensuality through their physical features:

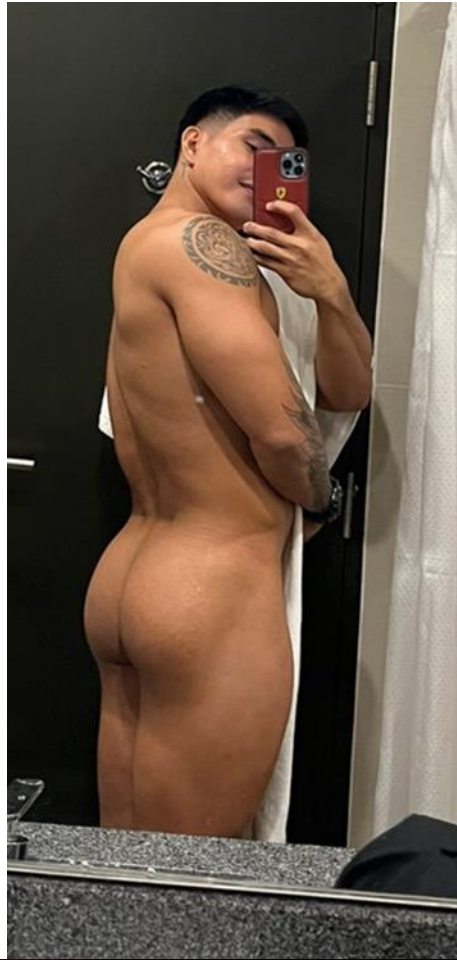

Being white, I believe that the ideal of beauty, physical perfection and sensuality should be indigenous people and East Asians who have the same genetics, and not white people. The genetics of the pure indigenous people of this continent and the East Asians are what should predominate in the world, not white genetics.

These indigenous haters have a visceral hatred for indigenous people that is completely irrational because indigenous people have not harmed them, indigenous people never respond to their hateful comments and indigenous people never respond to their statements where they try to humiliate them.

On the other hand, the fact that these criminals allude to the size of the indigenous man's penis shows that their hatred for the indigenous people does have a sexual connotation. What they are looking for when making these comments is that indigenous women prefer white men in order to exterminate the indigenous people through miscegenation.

I have never seen indigenous men and East Asian men be so ridiculous to brag about the size of their genitals and claim that non-indigenous and non-Asians men have smaller genitals.

There is a phrase that says: - Tell me what you brag about and I will tell you what you lack.

All those who hate the indigenous people, the cockfighters, the bullfighters and those who hunt for pleasure are sexist men who, due to their insecurity, according to them, have to demonstrate manhood through cruelty and violence constantly.

Symbolically, elongated objects are related to the male genital organ. The sword and rifles of the colonizers who subjugated the indigenous people, the rifles of those who hunt for pleasure without being a necessity to survive, and the rapier and banderillas of the bullfighters, are a way of showing off what they lack.

In groups that defend colonization and deny the atrocities committed by the colonizers, such as groups in Spain that talk about Hispanidad and Leyenda Negra, to deny the atrocities committed by the colonizers, if someone publishes a hateful comment against the indigenous people where they claim that the indigenous people of the present must be enslaved, subjected and dominated, some of those sick people like that comment and support it.

The same thing happens if someone enters Brazilian groups on social networks, where Jair Bolsonaro is supported, and writes in Portuguese that the indigenous people of the present must be subjugated, dominated and enslaved, some of those people like that comment. and they support it.

Let us remember that Jair Bolsonaro has never hidden his hatred of the indigenous people by saying phrases like the following: - It is a shame that the Brazilian cavalry was not as efficient as the American one, which exterminated the Indians. (Correio Braziliense, April 12, 1998).

In a conference before Zionist Jews, Bolsonaro said: -You will not see an centimeter demarcated for indigenous reserves.

In another video, Bolsonaro said: - In 2019 we are going to demarcate the Raposa Terra Do Sol indigenous reserve. We are going to give weapons to all the landowners.

But both Bolsonaro and his sons and the bolsonarist politicians, as cowards, deny feeling hatred for the indigenous people; however, they cannot hide their hatred for the indigenous people in their speeches.

In the following screenshot, a criminal from Brazil named Darcio Viude Fernandes who supports Jair Bolsonaro writes the following: - El Indio is useless, the United States did well to finish them off.

In Argentina, too, Right-wing conservatives, libertarians and neoliberals hate indigenous people, but, for some strange reason, the indigenous people they hate the most are the indigenous people of the Mapuche ethnic group, and if someone writes a comment that The Mapuches should be exterminated and they should not have rights, these criminals say they like that comment and support it.

Right-wing criminals from Argentina, liberals and conservatives, have promoted hatred of the Mapuches with comments such as the following:

Ramiro Marra wrote on Twitter: – To the Mapuches, not even a tree should be given.

Francisco J. Revoredo wrote on Twitter: – bullet.

In Argentina and Chile, the Mapuche suffer hatred and contempt, and the state of those countries, the police and the military, treat them as criminals when they defend their rights, Just as indigenous people of any other ethnic group in these countries on this continent are treated as criminals or terrorists when they defend their rights.

The following is a screenshot of the publication titled: - March 24, Mapuche political prisoners: For our people the genocide never ended.

And a photograph of: Celeste Guenumil, one of the Mapuche political prisoners, at the place of detention with her baby. (Image by Eugenia Neme)

24 de marzo, presas políticas mapuche: «Para nuestro pueblo nunca terminó el genocidio»

Photographs of police and military, dominating, subduing and repressing the Mapuches who fight for their rights:

Really, the evil of these monsters and the hatred they feel for the indigenous people seems to be something genetic, and I know that someone can tell me that it is actually a hatred motivated by continuing to evict the indigenous people from their lands, by continuing to expel them from their territories and continue generating economic wealth with the resources of those lands.

And it is true, the main reason is economic and capitalist, but I also think that it goes beyond the economic and other factors also influence.

Proof that hatred and contempt for indigenous people is something that is encouraged in the present are precisely the comments that those who defend colonization by talking about Hispanidad and the Black Legend, for these people the indigenous people did not provide contributions and always refer to the indigenous people as savages.

I must also clarify that, although it is important for indigenous people to preserve their languages, when I criticize Hispanidad, I am not saying that the Spanish language is something bad and I am not saying that all Spaniards are bad.

What happens is that when these people talk about Hispanidad this goes beyond the Spanish language and Spanish nationality, because with the phrase of the Triumph of Hispanidad and the use of the flag of New Spain they refer to the celebration of the expiration of the indigenous people, to the celebration of the domination and submission of the indigenous people, to the triumph of the colonizers and to the celebration of colonization in general.

HISPANIDAD 12 de Octubre

Unir

Once one of these people who talk about Hispanidad and the Black Legend to deny the atrocities committed in colonization, told me: -But, if you want to help the indigenous people, I am not opposed to that.

The word but, and that phrase if you want as something optional, reflects that for this person the life of the indigenous people is worth less, that for this person the life of the indigenous people is inferior and that the life of the indigenous people for this person is less important, and since they are worth less according to him it is optional to help them.

Another, who also talks about Hispanidad and the Black Legend, told me to go live with the savages. When these people refer to the indigenous people using the word savages, calling the indigenous people savages means hatred and contempt for the indigenous people.

Also, a woman who talks about Hispanicity and the Black Legend told me that I needed to be civilized. For these people, being civilized means contaminating and destroying the environment, Christianity, machismo, believing that white Europeans are superior and hating indigenous people.

On the other hand, since these people consider the indigenous people to be savages, when they say that someone must be civilized, they are referring to the indigenous people.

This person in his ignorance refers to me as indigenous, it would be a pride if I were indigenous, but I am not. These ignorant people believe that just because someone is born on this continent it means they are indigenous, which shows their high degree of ignorance and stupidity.

These criminals believe that Creoles and mestizos are indigenous. It is unfortunate that there is no law that condemns trash and stupid people like this to the death penalty.

I am mixed race and I am white, and my physical features are more European, and for me it is somewhat annoying to have this genetics due to excess body hair, because my skin is less resistant to the sun, and when I shave and when I wax my skin it gets much more irritated and I get hives.

On the other hand, when the indigenous people depilate their bodies with wax and piranha teeth, for example, in O ritual da Arranhadeira where the indigenous people of the Xingu ethnic groups of Brazil depilate their bodies with the teeth of a fish until they bleed a little, although they bleed a little, that reddish, smooth and soft skin does not become irritated and they do not form hives.

I condemn the domination and sadism of the colonizers against the indigenous people because it was against the will of the indigenous people, but in indigenous rituals where there is voluntary sadism and masochism I do not condemn it because it is voluntary.

For example, in the Sun Dance ritual, it is true that an indigenous person exerts some pain on himself, but for me it is not a bad thing, because it is a voluntary pain.

In the Jamurikumalu ritual of the indigenous ethnic groups that live in Xingu, part of the ritual is for the women to humiliate the men, dominate them, and cause them a little pain with some blows and kicks, but, all of this happens with the consent of both and therefore, it is not a bad thing.

And I know that those who hate indigenous people can use this to say that they are savages, but, I don't consider it savage because it happens with their own consent. Savage is all the pain and suffering that those who are not indigenous have caused to indigenous people against their will.

Savage is what non-indigenous people do to pollute and destroy the environment. Wild is what non-indigenous people do: hunting for pleasure, participating in cockfights and bullfighting.

In initiation rituals or rites of passage practiced by indigenous ethnic groups, indigenous adolescents are whipped as a way to teach them to be brave, resist pain, and as part of their initiation into adult life.

But, this cannot be considered abuse, nor something bad, adolescents agree to these rituals where they experience some pain and everything happens with their consent.

During the Pequi Festival of the Yawalapiti, in the Alukaka games, one of the games is the following:

The men lie naked on their backs forming a line, in this game the women try to remove the men from the line. In this game, women are allowed to push, punch and pinch men.

The winner is the man who stays in line until the end. To demonstrate courage, the winning man must resist all women. In a way, the game represents a type of sexual subjugation of men by women.

Those who hate indigenous people based on Christian morality and values based on puritanism, racism and classism: they can use this to say that indigenous people are disgusting, immoral, scoundrels or ordinary.

But, for those of us who have a morality that is not based on Christianity, and we have values that are not based on puritanism, nor on racism, nor on classism: these practices do not make indigenous people disgusting, they do not make them immoral, they don't make them scoundrels and they don't make them ordinary.

We consider these practices as a beautiful art, and we do not consider the practices brought by white people where they cause pain for pleasure to animals, such as bullfighting, cockfighting and hunting for pleasure as art, or as sport.

Those who hate indigenous people can also say that these practices where indigenous women sexually subjugate and dominate indigenous men are the same as when the colonizers subjugated, dominated and enslaved the indigenous people.

But, they are not the same, in these indigenous practices, the intention is never slavery, it is never torture, it is never extermination and it is never genocide, and these practices occur with the mutual consent of both (both women and Men's).

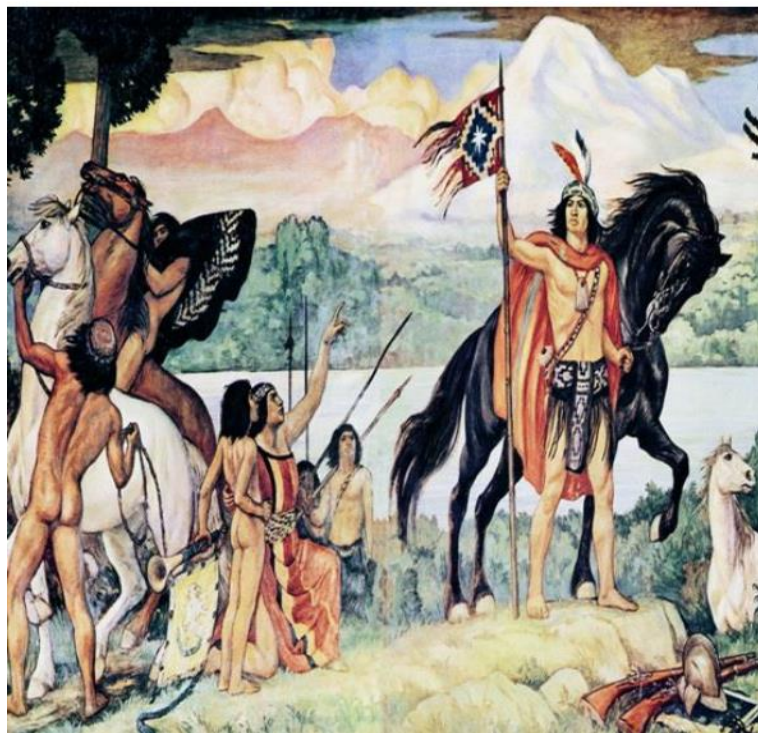

On this continent to which the colonizers gave the name America, if there were black colonizers, some examples of them are:

Juan Valiente was a black colonizer who participated in the campaigns against the indigenous ethnic groups of Auracania, that is, he participated in the massacre of indigenous people.

The following is an illustration of the Spanish war in which Juan Valiente participated against the Mapuches, and against other indigenous ethnic groups such as the Huilliches, the Pehuenches and Cuncos.

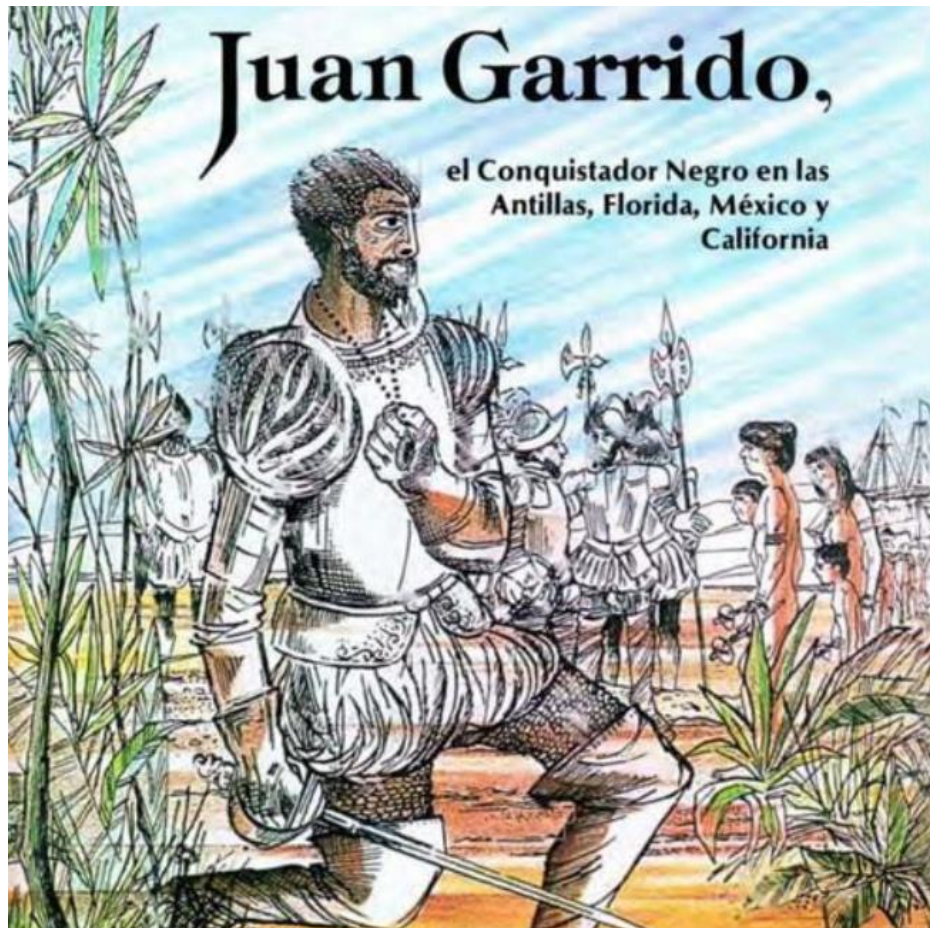

The following illustration represents Lautaro and other indigenous people of the Mapuche ethnic group preparing to fight their enemies:

Juan Garrido was another black colonizer who fought in war campaigns of the Spanish colonizers against the indigenous people.

Juan Garrido wrote this in a letter: - I, Juan Garrido, black, resident of this city (Mexico), appear before Your Mercy and declare that I am in need of giving proof in perpetuity to the king, a report of how I served Your Majesty in the conquest and pacification of this New Spain, since the Marquis del Valle (Cortés) entered it and in his company I was present in all the invasions and conquests and pacifications that were made, always with said Marquis, all of which I did it at my own expense without them giving me salary or distribution of Indians or anything else.

The pacifications consisted of dominating and subduing the indigenous people, making them convert to Christianity by force, submitting to the royalty of Europe, accepting being considered inferior to the whites, and accepting to serve as slaves in the encomiendas and in the mitas where they were forced to work until they literally died of exhaustion.

The pacifications consisted of forcing the indigenous people to be masochistic with their enemies, to endure everything to their enemies, to love their enemies, to forgive their enemies everything, to comply with the teachings of Jesus Christ so that they and all their descendants could live in a system of hate, domination and oppression that would provide sadistic pleasure to its enemies forever.

The pacifications of all indigenous people are exactly what politicians, elites, businessmen, media such as television, and the entertainment industry such as movies, series and cartoons are looking for today.

Juan Bardales was another black colonizer, who participated in the colonization of Panama and Honduras.

Juan García was another black colonizer who, along with three thousand other blacks, helped Francisco Pizarro in the conquest of Peru. He was also part of the capture and murder of the indigenous man called Atahualpa.

Sebastián Toral was a black colonizer who helped in the conquest of Mexico. And Juan Beltrán de Magaña was another black colonizer who was part of the battles against the indigenous Mapuche ethnic group.

The Hispanists use this to say that the Spanish colonizers were not racist, and this is another proof of the hatred they have for the indigenous people because for the Hispanists racism only matters when black people suffer it, but they are indifferent to the racism that indigenous people suffer because they consider indigenous people as disposable beings, garbage or objects.

In the case of the Putumayo Genocide, although many of the foremen were white, there were also two black foremen named Stanley and Lewis who committed the same atrocities against the indigenous people that the white foremen committed.

Also, in the colonization of the past there were indigenous traitors who helped the colonizers. And in the present there are these traitorous indigenous people. The following are photographs of three indigenous people who support Jair Bolsonaro:

A black woman named Cleia M Brandão who supports Jair Bolsonaro writes in a comment that she hates Indians, and also that nothing justifies so much violence, referring to the few times when indigenous people take revenge against whites and against mestizos that hurt them.

This woman is a Christian and also supports Jair Bolsonaro:

Cleia M Brandão

1 de mayo · 🌐

Se fosse da minha família esses desgraçados iam pagar
Nada justifica tamanha violência,
Odeio índios

But, for this clown named Cleia M Brandão, so much violence, cruelty, abuse, torture, poisoning of water with mercury and other poisons, rape and murder of indigenous people is justifiable, when whites and when mestizos invade their territories to keep the wood and minerals of these territories, and to use these territories for cattle and bull farming, which generates a lot of deforestation to make pastures, and generates large emissions of excessive methane and carbon dioxide due to the large size of the digestive system of the cows and the bulls.

By the way, in this comment, this clown, religious fanatic, crazy, who believes in shitty conspiracy theories invented by conservatives and retrograde like many Brazilians by Cleia M Brandão in this comment is defending three hunters named Cosmo Ribeiro de Sousa, José Luís da Silva Teixeira and Wilian Santos Câmara, who illegally entered the Parakanã indigenous reserve to hunt, which is illegal, thus defending three criminals.

Many indigenous people allow themselves to be fooled by this lie that just because someone is black they will treat indigenous people better and will not treat them as inferiors, and this is totally false, it is a deception, and it is not true.

By the way, cows and bulls come from both Europe and Africa, the Egyptians who lived in Africa practiced bull and cow farming, as did the Greeks, the Romans, the Slavs, the Vikings and the Celts.

In another comment by a black person named Venicius Souza from Brazil, he wrote in a mocking tone: - An Indian even knows how to write.

This shows that there are also many blacks (not all) who, like many whites and many mestizos, consider indigenous people as ignorant.

But many do not realize that many of the injustices that indigenous people suffer today are also the fault of many mestizos and many blacks, and in the case of mestizos it is irrelevant whether they are white mestizos or brown mestizos.

The fact that they are brown mestizos does not make them less bad and does not make them less guilty of what the indigenous people suffer due to their indifference.

This Venicius Souza is also someone who supports Jair Bolsonaro, in fact, he made a publication with the title of reasons to vote for Bolsonaro.

Therefore, it is a lie that only white people harm indigenous people. Many blacks and many mulattoes also harm the indigenous people, many brown mestizos also harm the indigenous people, and from the beginning of colonization to the present there has been a small percentage of indigenous people who are traitors and serve their enemies.

One of the things that right-wing conservative criminals, libertarians, neoliberals and all those who hate indigenous people say to justify colonization in the past, and to justify the extermination and genocide of indigenous people in the PRESENT is that among the indigenous people themselves hated each other because there were indigenous ethnic groups that waged war on others.

But wars existed between white Europeans and Christians before they colonized this continent, some examples are:

Hundred Years' War (1337-1453): conflict between England and France.

Thirteen Years' War (1474-1487): conflict between Spain and Portugal for control of the territory of Guinea.

War of the Castilian Succession (1475-1479): conflict between Spain and Portugal over the succession to the throne of Spain.

Anglo-Spanish War (1585-1604): conflict between England and Spain due to the religious and political differences of the time.

And among the different Christian religions there were wars between some Christian religions against other Christian religions, such as the following:

Eighty Years' War (1568-1648): conflict between the Netherlands (Protestant) and Spain (Catholic).

Thirty Years' War (1618-1648): conflict that involved several European nations, including the Holy Roman Empire, Sweden, France, and Spain, and which began as a war between Catholics and Protestants in Bohemia.

Hundred Days War (1648-1649): conflict between France (Catholic) and Spain (Catholic) for control of Flanders.

War of the Portuguese Restoration (1640-1668): conflict between Portugal (Catholic) and Spain (Catholic) after the independence of Portugal.

Franco-Dutch War (1672-1678): conflict between France (Catholic) and the Netherlands (Protestant) for control of the Spanish Netherlands.

Nine Years' War (1688-1697): conflict between France (Catholic) and the League of Augsburg (Protestant) within the framework of the Nine Years' War.

And for all these wars between Europeans and wars between the same Christians of different denominations, no one says that Christians and Europeans are savages, no one says that they hated each other because of these wars, and no one says that they deserve to be exterminated until they are only 5% at present, because there is no generalized and structural hatred at the social level for Europeans and Christians.

But, they do say all this about the indigenous people, because there is a generalized and structural hatred for the indigenous people at a social level, whether consciously or unconsciously.

However, when indigenous people of some ethnic groups joined the colonizers to defeat the Aztecs and when some indigenous ethnic groups joined the colonizers to defeat the Incas, after these indigenous ethnic groups helped defeat the Incas and the Aztecs: The colonizers also treated the indigenous people who helped them colonize as inferior, they also subjected them, dominated them and enslaved them, simply what happened is that these indigenous ethnic groups went from being dominated by the Aztecs and Incas to being dominated by the European colonizers.

For example, the right-wing party VOX posted this on Twitter: - On this day 500 years ago, a Spanish troop led by Hernán Cortés and native allies achieved the surrender of Tenochtitlán. Spain managed to free millions of people from the bloodthirsty and terror regime of the Aztecs. Proud of our History.

Tal día como hoy de hace 500 años, una tropa de españoles encabezada por Hernán Cortés y aliados nativos consiguieron la rendición de Tenochtitlán.

España logró liberar a millones de personas del régimen sanguinario y de terror de los aztecas.

Orgullosos de nuestra Historia 🇪🇸

What VOX does not say is that after those indigenous people of various ethnicities helped the Spanish colonizers defeat the Aztecs, those indigenous people who helped them were also dominated, subjugated and enslaved by the Spanish colonizers.

Simply put, the Spanish colonizers tricked them into helping them defeat the Aztecs and then subdued them as well.

Santiago Abascal of VOX is a friend of Jair Bolsonaro and Eduardo Bolsonaro, so there is a possibility that he is related to the hateful comments against indigenous people and the massacres of indigenous people committed during Jair Bolsonaro's government.

In video titled Capítulo 9: GENOCIDIO SELKNAM - La Historia Secreta de Chile 2 a criminal with a Viking style (all these criminals have a Viking style) who calls himself Cheese Ball, referring to the extermination of indigenous people by Spanish colonizers, made these comments: - They don't have to do it. Many contributions provided by indigenous ethnic groups were the following:

The indigenous ethnic groups had crops of corn, cocoa, cassava, potatoes, peanuts, tomatoes and beans, they had ways of cultivating the land without damaging the land such as crop rotation, the three sisters and terrace cultivation among others.

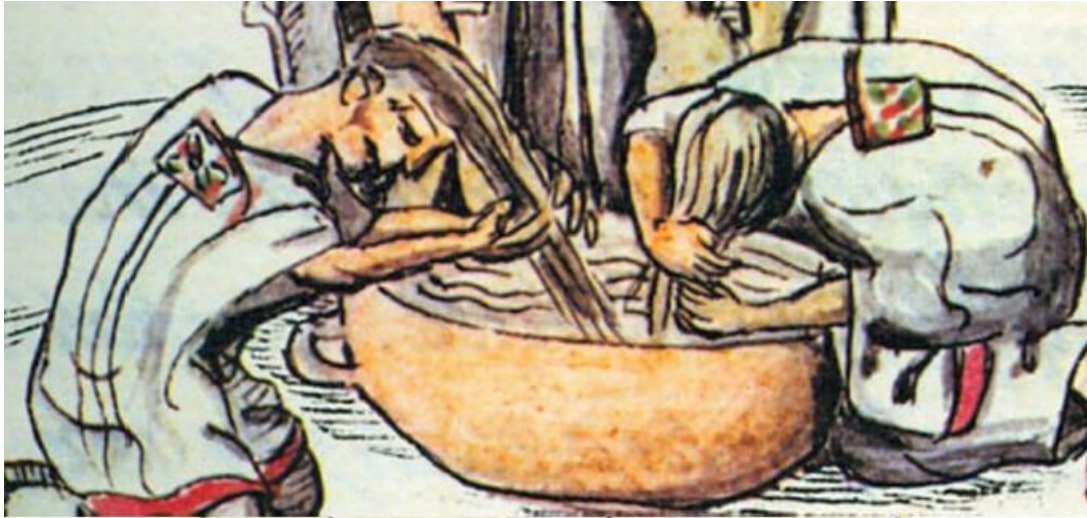

By the way, some crops of indigenous ethnic groups such as cassava and potatoes, being resistant to drought, saved many from famine (including many Europeans) in times of scarcity of other foods.

The indigenous ethnic groups knew the properties of many medicinal plants, they knew mathematics, geometry and architecture to build great works, they built aqueducts for the use of drinking water like those built by the Incas, they used tubers to make soap, and they used ashes and herbs as toothpaste.

Also, in Mexico and Guatemala, indigenous people suffer from being made invisible, they suffer hatred and discrimination, and greater value is given to mestizos as part of the extermination of indigenous people that continues to the present.

On the Internet there is a disastrous blog that has never been censored called: Odio a los indios, amo a Guatemala. In this Blog you can read disastrous phrases like the following: - Please, if you have stories about Indians, if you know girls from a good home who have married, dated or given their asses to an Indian, please write to me, I will publish it.

Odio a los indios, amo a Guatemala

por favor si tienen historias de los indios, si conocen a chicas de buena casa que se hallan casado, juntado o dado el culo a un indio, por favor escribanme, yo lo publicare,

That repulsive phrase demonstrates how those who hate indigenous people also seek to repress their sexuality and repress their reproduction in the present to cause an extermination of all indigenous people until they completely disappear.

For these criminals who hate indigenous people, indigenous people only have the right to exist in memories, being dominated, subdued and completely exterminated.

On May 17, 2023, the third Facebook account that I opened during that year was also censored by the Facebook genocide.

A few minutes before they closed my account, this supposed woman who calls herself Maladho Jalloh, who claims to work for the United States government, which appears to be a fake Facebook account, sent me a friend request, I blocked her and a few Minutes after blocking it, Facebook deletes my account.

The landowners who are dedicated to agribusiness are those who have caused the most murders of indigenous people in Brazil and in all the countries of this continent. A disastrous Facebook account from Brazil associated with these landowners is Notícias Agrícolas, this account supports Jair Bolsonaro.

Notícias Agrícolas publishes this: - Anthropologist warns about devices used to transform productive lands into indigenous reserves and confirms the participation of international institutions that work to encourage and expedite the demarcation process here in Brazil. According to the anthropologist, demarcation today is not a democratic process.

The majority of humanity, which is not indigenous in its stupidity and evil, believes that the word Democracy means something good, but in reality, Democracy is based on the will of the perverse and ignorant majorities. Democracy negatively affects indigenous people and benefits those who hate them.

A criminal named Renato Alves Portilho from Brazil made this comment: - These ONGS are anti-progressive, they only want to paralyze the development of our country and our government, pretend you don't see it.

When these criminals talk about Development, they always refer to what selfishly benefits only whites and mestizos, and what generates economic profits, which is the only thing they think about like every Right-wing, Libertarian and Neoliberal criminal.

Also, with Development, they mean eliminating the indigenous people, and that there are only whites and mestizos who destroy and contaminate the environment, that the indigenous people do not have rights and do not own lands to use the lands for capitalist purposes.

Renato Alves Portilho is a mixed race. On the other hand, for me, the women who are partners of these criminals are just as criminal for falling in love with these monsters and having children with these monsters. They are the same as women who fall in love with those who hunt for pleasure, with bullfighters or cockfighters, and who have children with these monsters.

It doesn't matter the gender or sex, these monsters and their partners should not exist, and they should not have sons, since evil is in their genetics.

Another Brazilian criminal named Neris Nunes de Almeida made this comment: - We have to value the farmers who produce food and create jobs in the countryside, not the Indians and ONGS who just want the country to go backwards. Against the demarcation of productive lands.

Neris Nunes de Almeida

For criminals like Neris Nunes de Almeida, the lives of indigenous people have no value, they only consider the lives of whites and mestizos with value. Criminals like Neris Nunes de Almeida are complicit and equally guilty of all the injustices that indigenous people suffer today.

A Brazilian criminal named Doni Menegas made this comment: - As always, the same story: the peasants lose their land and that unfortunate race takes the land after it is ready and they let it turn into bushes and they go drink cachaça with money of the government, to be good an Indian has to live in the middle of the forests without contact with civilization, or else we will have to do like in the United States where they killed them all.

And two Brazilian criminals named Geison Adriano Schmidt and Gilmar Santos (Pile) liked this comment.

Again, for these clowns, civilization is polluting and destroying the environment, for these garbage, civilization is that only whites and mestizos exist, and not indigenous people, these garbage that make these comments should be sentenced to the death penalty along with all their family because they carry evil in their genes.

The disastrous Facebook page, which is not censored from Facebook (although it promotes hatred of indigenous people), made this comment: - Indigenous lands: Terenas invade property 67 in MS.

And a Brazilian criminal named Jorge Emir Garcia made this comment: - It's time for the Armed Forces to put an end to this!

These criminals treat the indigenous people as invaders, when these criminals are the real invaders, because the indigenous people were on this continent before them and before their ancestors who came from Portugal to steal their lands, it is unfortunate that the indigenous people did not have the same weapons that the colonizers brought, so that these garbage that make these comments do not exist in the present.

The junk account Notícias Agrícolas also published this: - Rural producer was tortured by indigenous people before dying, says police in MS.

What these garbage never say is that it is these landowners (rural producers) who first invade indigenous territories, expel indigenous people from their territories, murder them, torture them, abuse their sons, and poison the waters with Mercury and other poisons. And when the indigenous people torture and kill these criminals it is because they deserve it for all the damage they have done to the indigenous people and their sons.

Proof that Notícias Agrícolas is totally related to Bolsonaro is the following comment: - President Jair Bolsonaro said this Thursday that, if the Supreme Federal Court (STF) rejects a deadline for the demarcation of indigenous lands, agribusiness will end in Brazil and the country will have to import food.

In Argentina, a criminal named Julio Argentino Roca carried out the misnamed Conquest of the Desert, where indigenous people were massacred and expelled from their territories in the name of the disastrous progress of whites and mestizos. Argentina is a disastrous, white supremacist and Nazi country, where indigenous people continue to suffer many injustices.

The nefarious Mars Ultor, who is a follower of the criminal clown named Agustín Laje, made this comment: -Eternal glory to the great Julio Argentino Roca.

In Costa Rica, a clown named Jose Antonio Barrera Lazo made this comment: - It is not enough to see these starving Indians every day in the streets of my town, because for me they have been and will always be Indians, before the law and Any other public entity calls themselves indigenous, outside of them they face being what they are Indians. All the time, the non-indigenous race, as they call us, are the culprits of the deforestations that are carried out on the planet and so on, according to them. I don't care what anyone thinks about my comment, but one thing I'm sure of is that I hate Indians.

It is totally true that those who are not indigenous are the ones who destroy and contaminate the planet the most, and I recognize it as I am white and mestizo, but for this clown Jose Antonio Barrera Lazo the truth is an offense like the majority of humanity who They don't like being told their truths and they love to play victims the clowns.

MATAR INDIOS 🤡

Ficacio Hunberto Dias Arriaza published this phrase: -I am indigenous from Olopa.-

This criminal who hates the indigenous people and wants their complete extermination, published this phrase along with the image of a murdered indigenous person, in the photo the indigenous person appears hanged and tied by the neck to a plant as if to say that the indigenous people are weak and that is why They deserve to be exterminated.

Olopa is a place in Guatemala, so I assume that this criminal is a police officer or military man from Guatemala.

If we review the pages that this criminal follows on Facebook, he follows many Catholic pages, for example: Nuestra Señora de Candelaria Candelaria RCC Esquipulas.

It is true that unfortunately at present the majority of indigenous people are of Christian religions, and I repeat that it is not the fault of the majority of indigenous people of the present to be of Christian religions, it is the fault of centuries of colonization, and centuries of evangelization by whites and of mestizos.

It is true that Christian religions offer humanitarian aid to indigenous people, but never unconditionally, they always offer help in exchange for evangelization and to make them believe that their only option if they want to continue living is to convert to Christianity.

But, these same Christian religions are the ones that cause murders of indigenous people in the present, although the majority of indigenous people in the present are Christians. And most indigenous people do not realize that being of Christian religions they are like lambs serving the wolves.

In Panama, the indigenous people of the Ngäbe or Ngobe ethnic group (formerly the Guaimíes) today, the vast majority are of a Christian religion called Mama Tatda and another part are of Christian religions such as evangelical, Adventist or Catholic.

In Panama, a pastor who called himself the Messiah cruelly beat several families of the Ngobe ethnic group who belonged to his church with a hot machete to, according to him, drive out the demon.

According to the pastor, the holy spirit gave him orders to remove demons from the members of his church, who were all indigenous.

Pastor que se denominaba el Mesia.

Machete Caliente a varias Familia
Ngäbe. Para Sacarle el Demonio.

Segun el Pastor el Espiritu le dictaba ducha ordenes para sacarle los Demonios a los Miembros de la Iglesia.

The indigenous people do not realize that, although the majority are Christians today, and in the present many ethnic groups no longer practice nudity, in many indigenous ethnic groups today men and women are dressed from head to toe with the climate of this continent, they no longer practice polygamy, and have developed homophobia because of Christianity, they will always be hated by Christians, they will always be seen as objects, as inferiors and as prey.

They don't realize that they are serving their enemies, who will always hate them, even though they appear to care and offer them humanitarian aid.

In the El Terrón massacre, which occurred in Panama, in a Christian sect called Iglesia Luz de Dios, related to Mama Tatda, the pastor kept 15 indigenous people tied up inside the church, and caused the murder of six indigenous children and the mother of five of them who was a 32-year-old woman who was pregnant.

Efigenia Valdés was an indigenous woman who survived this massacre and was beaten blind.

Efigenia Valdés comments that: - They hit me in the eyes with the Bible, they left me blind and I lost consciousness.

All those who have caused massacres of indigenous people in the present are of Christian religions: Jair Bolsonaro is an evangelical Christian, Jeanine Áñez is Catholic, Dina Boluarte is Catholic, Guillermo Lasso is Catholic, Mario Abdo Benítez is Catholic and Iván Duque is Catholic.

The majority of indigenous people do not realize that by being Christians in the present they are serving their enemies who detest them, and they do not realize that those Christian teachings of loving one's enemies, turning the other cheek and forgiving everything are used by their enemies to make them submit and dominate them.

Tina Fontaine Murder: In 2014, Tina Fontaine, a 15-year-old Indigenous teenager, was found dead in a river in Winnipeg, Manitoba. Tina Fontaine's case drew attention to the violence and abuse suffered by Indigenous women and girls in Canada.

Acteal Massacre (1997): In Chiapas, Mexico, a paramilitary group linked to the local government attacked a Tzotzil community in Acteal, killing 45 people, including women and children.

The Panzós massacre in 1978, where a group of Q'eqchi' indigenous people were murdered by the police and the army while protesting against the expropriation of their lands.

The following photographs demonstrate the beauty of the indigenous villages:

Indigenous villages are places of great beauty because they are surrounded by nature, without water pollution and without air pollution. The indigenous people are truly civilized, and they are civilized because they care for and protect nature. The savage and uncivilized are those who are not indigenous who destroy and pollute the environment.

Those who are not indigenous are the savages and uncivilized people who live in cities full of water pollution, air pollution, car smoke and garbage.

In Mexico, an indigenous teacher named Carlos Alfredo Jiménez Olmedo was murdered in the Las Bajadas Massacre that occurred in 2023.

In Colombia, in 2022, three indigenous people from the Awá reservation were murdered.

In 2022, Damien Sanderson and Myles Sanderson stabbed 10 indigenous people to death on a reservation in Canada. The following are the photos of the murderers:

From the photographs, the murderers appear to be mestizos. The indigenous people should stop thinking that their enemies are only the majority of white people. In reality, the enemies of the indigenous people are the majority of those who are not indigenous: white Europeans, white Creoles, brown mestizos, white mestizos, a part of the blacks and a part of the mulattoes.

In the following photograph you can see a black woman from Brazil who supports Bolsonaro holding a sign with the phrase: -President Bolsonaro, activate the Armed Forces.

And many may accuse me of being racist and xenophobic for this, but it is not about racism and it is not about xenophobia, it is a reality that non-indigenous races often act as predators of indigenous ethnic groups, replacing or displacing The indigenous people are indifferent to the pain and suffering of the indigenous people, and when they vote they do so selfishly, thinking only of themselves and not the indigenous people, and they vote for governments that harm the indigenous people.

There are also blacks who are Right-wing, Libertarian or Neoliberal and who believe in conspiracy theories invented by conservatives, for example, billionaire Kanye West, who supports Donald Trump and promotes conspiracy theories invented by Christian conservatives.

Kanye West showing support for Donald Trump:

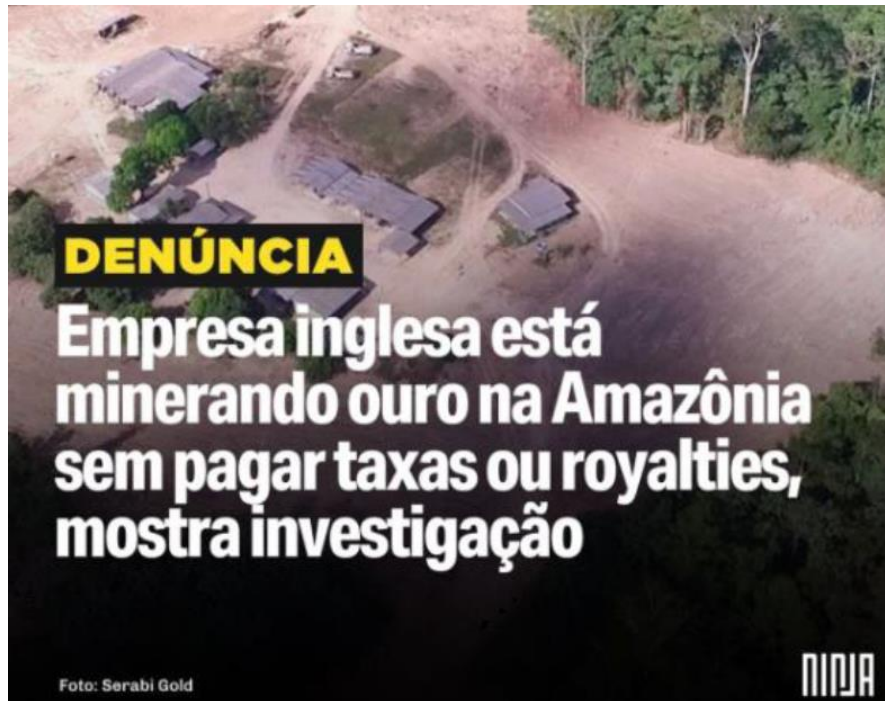

These monsters of the Right, Libertarians and Neoliberals can never hide their hatred for the indigenous people, they always express their hatred for the indigenous people in one way or another. Donald Trump is a friend of Jair Bolsonaro.

Although the political Right and neoliberals are those who most promote hatred of indigenous people. The political Left is also part of the oppression that indigenous people suffer, only the Left oppresses them by giving them crumbs and brainwashing them to facilitate their domination.

The following events occurred in 2023 in Lula's government in Brazil:
English company is mining gold in the Amazon without paying fees or royalties, research shows.

Businessmen from the security and weapons sectors own farms on indigenous lands.

Miners shoot three Yanomami indigenous people, including a health agent.

The chief of an indigenous village was the victim of an assassination attempt that left him in serious condition.

There was an attack by gunmen at the Ava Tee retake where several houses were burned, this type of attack occurs every day in the Guaraní Kaiowá territory.

Guaraní Kaiowá child in a state of malnutrition dies in Dourados.

The disastrous Military Police (PM) of Brazil attacks indigenous people of the Guaraní ethnic group who were recovering a territory.

These attacks on indigenous people continue to happen in Lula's government.

At present, those who deny that the colonizers committed atrocities against the indigenous people, saying that it was a Black Legend, and celebrate Hispanidad, referring to celebrating the submission, domination and extermination of the indigenous people who were defeated by colonizers, use that flag:

Also, in the following photo you can see that brown mestizos with indigenous features celebrate colonization, therefore, I affirm that many mestizos, even if they are brown and have indigenous features, are also enemies of the indigenous people, it is not just the whites:

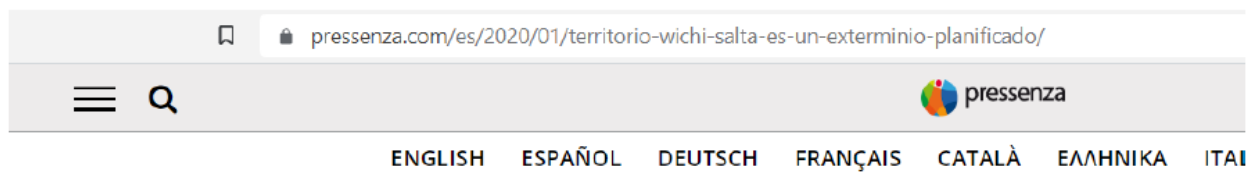

On April 8, 2023, the indigenous leader of the Asháninka ethnic group named Santiago Contoricón was murdered in Peru. The murderers shot him in the head and then fled on a motorcycle.

The following is a screenshot of a news item regarding what is happening in Argentina in the indigenous territory of the Wichi ethnic group titled: Wichi Territory, Salta: It is a planned extermination.

In 2019, an indigenous man named Mateo Gómez López was hacked to death in Mexico.

In 2020, an indigenous man named Daniel Pérez López, 32, was stoned to death in Mexico.

Many Argentines who hate indigenous people say that the Mapuches are invaders and that they exterminated other indigenous ethnic groups, but in reality these Argentines who say this are those who descend from Spanish and Italian invaders who exterminated most of the members of different indigenous ethnic groups like the Qom and others in the misnamed conquest of the desert, and in the genocide of the Selknam ethnic group.

The concept of countries is something colonial and did not exist on the continent before colonization. Before colonization: the Mapuche lived in what is now called Argentina and Chile.

Before colonization: The Yanomami lived in what is now Brazil and Venezuela. Before colonization: The Guaraní lived in what is now Brazil, Paraguay, Argentina and Bolivia.

Before colonization: The Ngobes lived in what is now Costa Rica and Panama. Before colonization: The Mayans lived in what is now Mexico, Guatemala, Belize, Honduras, and El Salvador.

I am white and mixed race, but I accept that most white people are bad and I accept that most mixed race people are bad.

The following captures are comments from Argentines where they commented on the Mapuches and the extermination of other indigenous ethnic groups in the misnamed Conquest of the Desert by Julio Argentino de Roca.

And that's how disastrous and despicable many Argentines are who are not indigenous, I don't say all of them, but yes, the majority. Argentina, Chile and Brazil should have tough sanctions worldwide for all the damage they have done to indigenous people from the past to the present.

And all the indigenous ethnic groups of Argentina, Chile, Brazil and all the countries of this continent should receive million-dollar compensation for all the injustices and all the damages they have suffered from the past to the present.

When the majority call indigenous people Indians, this is an offense because Indians are the people of India, and the word Indians has always been used in a tone of hatred and contempt to refer to indigenous people.

But, there are many who believe that indigenous is a word of contempt, the word indigenous is formed from indu which in Latin means within and gēna which means native, therefore, indigenous means native or originating.

However, when in Argentina they use the phrase native peoples instead of indigenous, it is simply a strategy to eliminate indigenous people from international law, because in international treaties on indigenous rights the word indigenous is mentioned and not the phrase native peoples.

In the following photograph in Argentina: Patricia Bullrich, justifying the actions of the Prefecture in response to the murder of Rafael Nahuel. His last name is related to the misnamed Conquest of the Desert, his great-great-uncle Adolfo Bullrich did big business with the lands stolen from the Patagonian peoples.

Rafael Nahuel was an indigenous Mapuche ethnic murdered in Argentina:

In 2021, the Paraguayan criminal police evicted several families from their territories. As long as these countries on this continent are governed by criminals who are not indigenous, indigenous people will continue to suffer all kinds of injustices and the genocide of indigenous people will continue.

Body painting is part of many indigenous ethnic groups, in the indigenous ethnic groups that inhabit the territory of Xingu in Brazil, they use both black and white to paint their entire body, something that is reminiscent of the Taoist concept of Ying and Yang.

The following is a screenshot of news from 2020 in Colombia titled: Three indigenous people killed in eviction by the armed forces in Leticia Amazonas.

Tres indígenas muertos en desalojo de las fuerzas armadas en Leticia Amazonas

More photographs of criminal police in Paraguay evicting indigenous people from their territories in 2021. The majority of the police and military in the countries of this continent are damned criminals, genocidaires and colonizers who deserve the death penalty because they cause injustice and atrocities against indigenous people.

The following photograph is of another eviction of indigenous people of the Avá Guaraní ethnic group that occurred in 2021 by the Paraguayan criminal police during the government of President Mario Abdo Benítez.

More photographs of how the Paraguayan criminal police cause injustices against the indigenous people of Paraguay:

In 2021, in Panama, the criminal police evict indigenous families who lived near the Barro Blanco hydroelectric plant. This occurred in the area called Territory of the Sacred Site of Tabasará, which belongs to the Reserve of the Ngäbe Buglé region.

In 2015, criminal police in Paraguay humiliated indigenous people fighting for their rights by tying them to trees.

The following photograph represents an event that occurred in Brazil in 2012: Repression of Kayapó indigenous people who protest against the Belo Monte hydroelectric plant.

In the photograph above, these Brazilian police officers appear to be brown mestizos. The belief that brown mestizos treat indigenous people better than white people is a deception. In reality, the majority of white Creoles, white mestizos, brown mestizos, a part of the blacks and a part of the mulattoes are enemies of the indigenous people alike.

And it is the majority of those who are not indigenous who maintain this system of hatred, domination, extermination and contempt for indigenous people by being indifferent to what indigenous people suffer, by making them invisible, by treating them as criminals or savages when they defend themselves or take revenge, by having a concept of beauty based on what is European and by continuing to vote for politicians who harm indigenous people.
